A LESSON FROM NATURE.

How to Cure a Cold. A SUBJECT IN WHICH WE ARE ALL MORE

OR LESS INTERESTED. To cure a cold quickly it must be properly treated as soon as the first and list to the echoes from harps of pure symptoms appear. Do you know the first symptoms? if not, you will un-doubtedly remember having them at numerous times and that you did not consider them at all serious or even worthy of your attention. They are a dry loud cough, a thin white coating on the tongue and a profuse watering discharge from the nese. Any one or more of these symptoms is natures way of telling people they have taken cold, and gives them ample time to cure it within two days if they desire to. The free use of Chan berlain's Cough Remedy will restore the system to a healthy condition within that time. If however the cold is neglected and allowed to become settled in the system several days or even a week may be required to effect a cure, as nature must then take its course and all that can be done is to aid nature in freeing the system of the cold, which is best accomplished by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will open the secretions and loosen and relieve the cold in less time than any other medicine or treatment; it seems to undermine a cold and to completely cradicate it from the system, as evidence of its superior excellance, we We are prepared to club the PREE PRESS to new or renewing subscribers with the following publications at the rates specified below, if ordered at the their several places of residence.
